Hillbeck News

We are officially now in autumn, this year has gone so quickly and I think we will all be happy to see the back of 2020.

We have been so lucky with the weather for our entertainers that we've welcomed into our courtyard.

September we had Peter Kneebone and our final one for this year was Kevin Walsh.

The residents have really enjoyed watching and singing along with the singers but because we cannot guarantee the dry weather. September will be the last one until next year or even better when they are allowed back inside the home...

As well as being very busy with Skype calls, we are trying to do as many activities as we can.

They all love to sing so choir and sing a longs are very popular. Bingo is still a strong favourite. Jigsaws, card and board games have also been a hit.

We had a great Seaside themed morning... lots of reminiscing about holidays away. We made some great seaside arts and crafts and I can't remember how many times we sang "Oh I do like to be beside the seaside"

Then to finish the morning a delicious fish and chip lunch eaten out of the box with salt and vinegar.

The residents all said how lovely the dinner was and the home smelt lovely!
